

Streamline Employee Onboarding Process with Complyan

The Challenge

Employee onboarding is an involved process requiring transparency, accuracy and tracking to ensure compliance and employee adoption of best practices. For new employees, the experience during onboarding sets the tone for their time at the company. In addition to starting a new role, employees also learn different technologies and a new workplace culture. If the process of completing onboarding tasks is too difficult, they might miss a step that can put the employee and the organization at risk. For Human Resources (HR) and program administrators, delivering positive experiences for new employees is difficult when they read and attest to important information, such as policies and code of conduct, through manual and disconnected processes.

The Solution

COMPLYAN centralized GRC platform can help new employees quickly complete all compliance onboarding activities with one login, in one location. It can also be the one location they go to in the future to find relevant documents, ask questions, and file a report if needed.

A holistic GRC platform can also help program administrators take the manual work out of creating and managing the onboarding process.

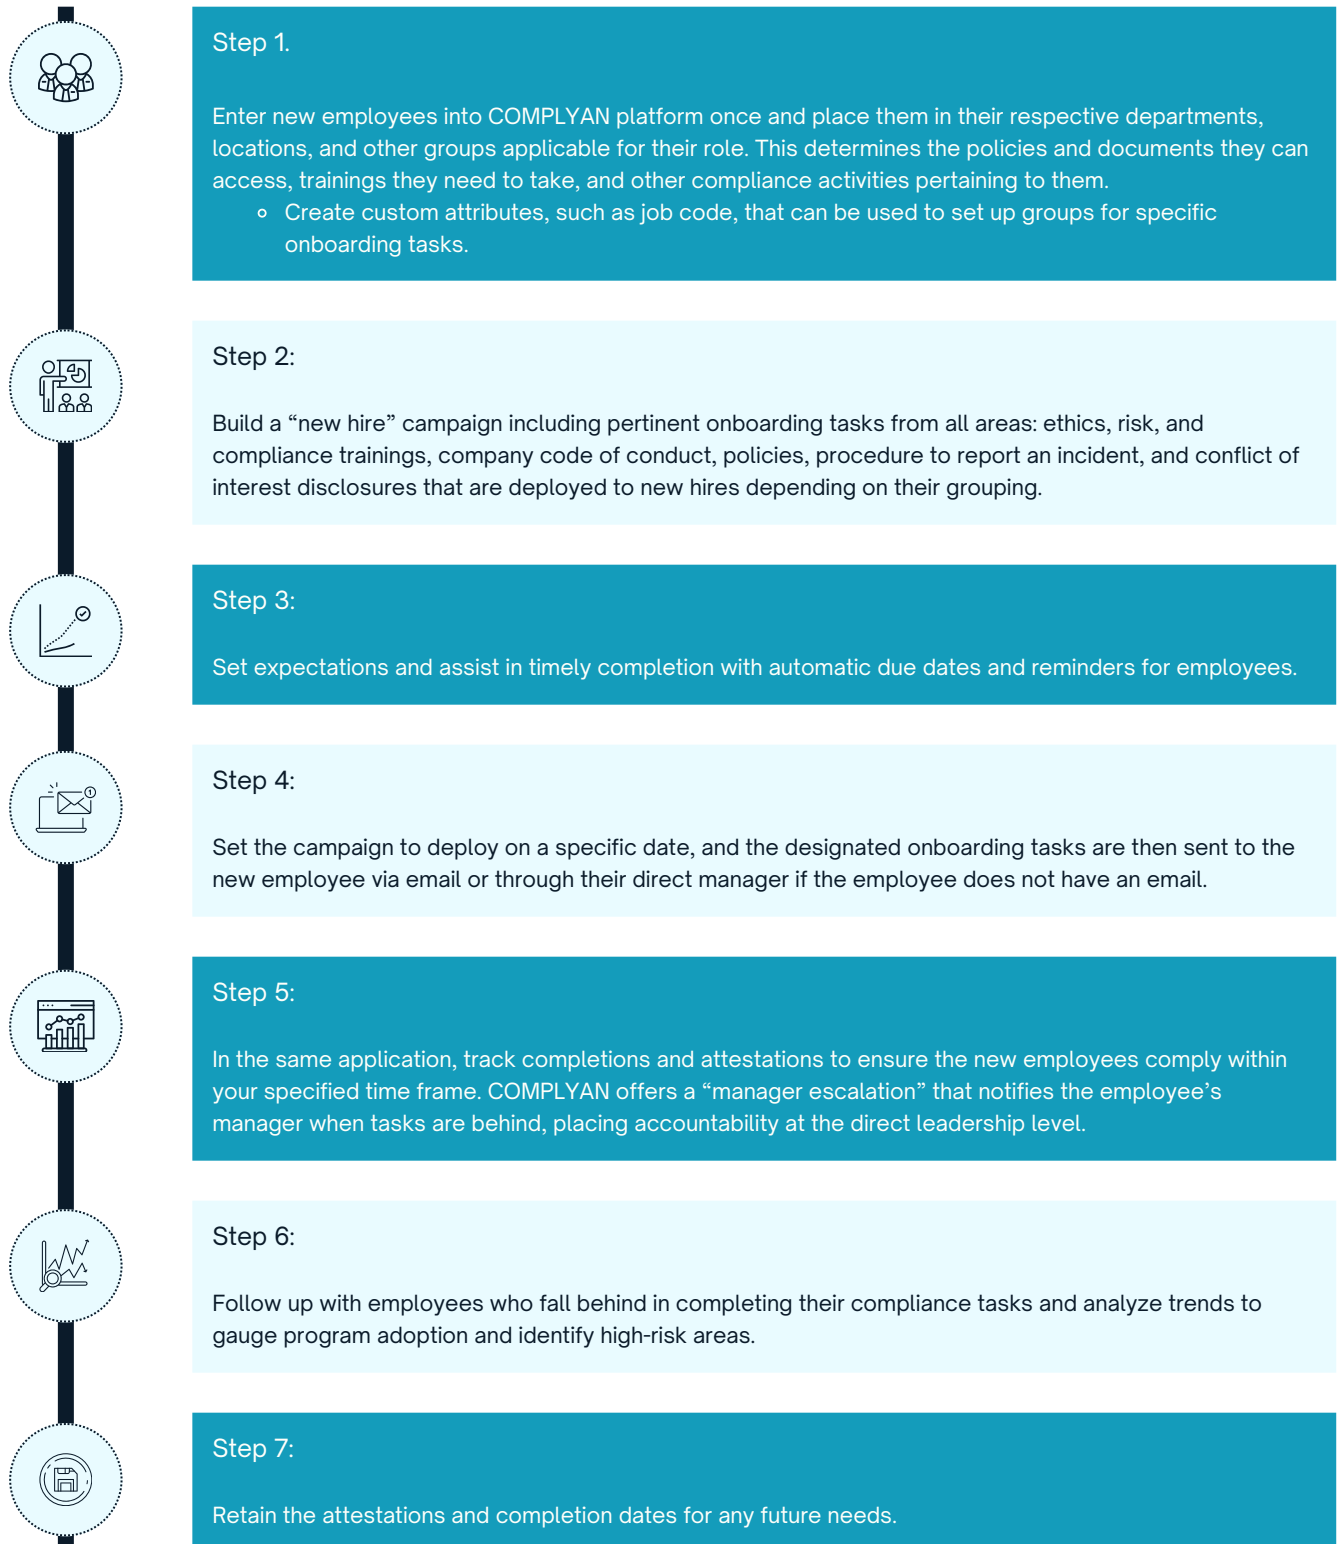

The system can ensure the right documents are assigned by location and group, and the completions are tracked and stored if needed in the future.

With the COMPLYAN platform, the onboarding process can be seamless, simple, and easy to manage for both the program administrator and the new employee.

Setting new employees up for success from the start is important for streamlined onboarding and employee retention. When required compliance tasks such as training, policy attestation, and disclosing conflicts of interest are easy to find and reference, employees are more likely to adhere to company expectations throughout their tenure. The COMPLYAN platform, through Employee Onboarding Hub, allows program administrators and HR teams to create and manage employee onboarding and ongoing compliance campaigns that are informative, compliant, and easy to complete.
